

Honorable Franklin G. Floete
Administrator
General Services Administration
Washington 25, D. C.

Dear Mr. Floete:

The General Services Administration regulations which establish the interagency motor pool systems provided for in Public Law 766, 83rd Congress, have been reviewed by this Agency. After careful study and consideration, I have determined that, with the possible exception of six vehicles [redacted] all Agency vehicles are directly connected with the performance of intelligence duties within the criteria established in Section 304 of your regulations.

[redacted] Although the inclusion of these six vehicles in interagency motor pools might be technically possible, such action would appear to be impractical as the vehicles concerned are physically located in comparatively remote areas, where most of them are in daily use, and no over-all economy could be realized by pooling.

It is, therefore, my belief that the best interests of the Government will be served by the continued operation of all Agency vehicles under the direct control of the Agency.

Sincerely,
